Resources for Revitalization

Creating equitable, vibrant communities through redevelopment.

Upcoming Virtual Events

You've no doubt heard of the Moving Forward Act and President Biden's proposed Build Back Better Plan, but did you know that both include major provisions that support brownfields redevelopment and land reuse? Join CCLR for an in-depth discussion on federal funding coming down the pike and how you can, and should, leverage it to turn neighborhood liabilities into community assets.

Register Here

This webinar is accredited through the American Planning Association New York Upstate Chapter. AICP certified planners who complete the webinar can receive 1 certification maintenance (CM) credit. APA CM #9214093

Get your Game On – Preparing to Win in the Fall 2021 Brownfields Grant Competition

April 27th, 11:30-1:00 PM PST

Join CCLR and the other Technical Assistance to Brownfields Communities (TAB) providers to start preparation for winning an EPA Brownfields grant for your community. The webinar will discuss upfront planning and areas communities should focus on now in order to be more competitive in the FY22 EPA Brownfield Assessment, Revolving Loan Fund, and Cleanup (ARC) grant competition this fall. Get your game on!

This webinar is made possible with funding provided by U.S. EPA.

Register Here

CCLR is the go-to resource for municipalities and other public entities striving to maintain momentum for equitable and sustainable redevelopment during these times.
Your support allows CCLR to host events, develop resources, and provide nationally recognized technical assistance to transform communities.

Donate

The Center for Creative Land Recycling (CCLR) is U. S. EPA's Technical Assistance to Brownfield communities provider in Region's 2, 9, and 10.
Contact us at info@cclr.org for assistance with your redevelopment projects.